

STAY IN CONTROL OF YOUR BUSINESS

Losing a business partner would be bad enough. But without the funds to buy their shares, you could find someone else in the driving seat.

Not what you signed up for?

Shareholder protection could give your business the money it needs to buy shares back if a partner falls critically ill* or dies.

So don't get stuck in a jam – protect your business for whatever lies ahead.

*Not all insurers cover the same illnesses, and definitions for illnesses may vary.
